Miami Beach Jewelry & Antiques Show

Miami Beach Jewelry & Antiques Show to Debut
At the Deauville Beach Resort
*Palm Beach Show Group Launches Latest Event

(Palm Beach, FL – May 3, 2016) --The Palm Beach Show Group continues to expand its impressive line-up of shows with the launch of the Miami Beach Jewelry & Antiques Show that will take place February 2-5, 2017. The show will debut at the renowned Deauville Beach Resort located on Miami Beach and will feature more than 150 international dealers. The show is poised to be an exciting new event in 2017, showcasing a remarkable array of antique and estate jewelry, fine art and an exceptional selection of antiques.

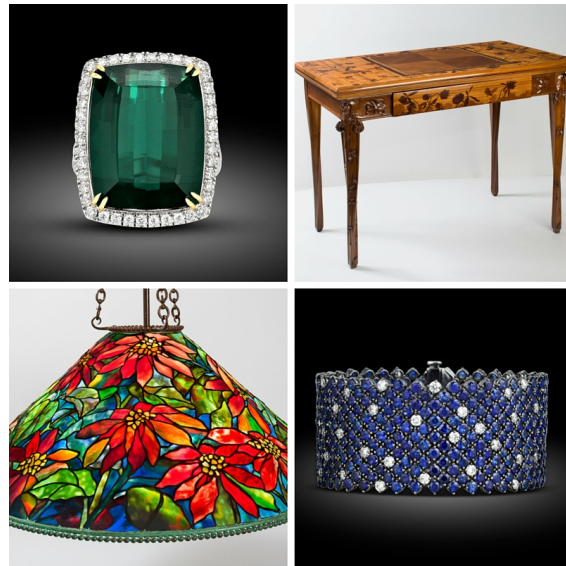

The show will present the finest jewelry and antique dealers from around the world, showcasing their one-of-a-kind pieces and offering a momentous shopping experience to an elite crowd in South Florida. Details about this exciting new event will be revealed in the coming weeks.

The Palm Beach Show Group is known for its comprehensive and distinctive marketing strategies, and plans to implement a huge push to the already extensive database made up of South Florida's most affluent communities.

"We are launching this show in Miami Beach based on exhibitor demand for a high end estate jewelry and antiques show in this market," stated Scott Diament, President/CEO of the Palm Beach Show Group. "Given the diversity of the dealers in our shows and the strength of the buying public in this market, we saw the opportunity to create something exceptional."

The Show is set to foster dealer trading as well as retail buying and will be heavily marketed to attract top buyers throughout South Florida. All categories of jewelry will be on display including vintage, estate, art deco and contemporary pieces, precious and semi-precious gemstones, earrings, necklaces, bracelets, and high-end watches.

"There is huge demand from dealers who want to be in Miami Beach during this time of year," stated Andrea Canady, Director of Business Development for the Palm Beach Show Group.
